FROM HIAWASSEE

Court is over, and enough justice is dealt out to do six months. A few were tried and convicted but a majority came clear. McClure, in the Piott-McClure cutting case came clear. John Hyatt and Tom Emerson left, allowing their bonds to be forfeited. The Grand Jury adjourned Friday with a total of 60 true bills.

Mr. Ed Wood lost a fine horse Friday of last week. Eating a bushel and a half of shelled corn.

Work, work, work, that of which everybody has more than anybody else, and that of which the quality, everybody has is much harder than anybody else. Work, the thing everybody grumbles at and nobody can do without. The President works to keep Mexico from blowing up the land and Germany from blowing up the sea.

Removing the Cause of Much Sickness

The advantage in taking Foley Cathartic Tablets is that in addition to carrying off the entire congested mass without griping or nausea, they thoroughly cleanse the walls of the intestines and keep them free of all clogging matter.

It is this clogging on the walls of the intestines that prevents their natural action and function, and is the direct cause of so much of the sickness and misery that makes constipation the curse of our present day.

For it is constipation that is responsible for a large share of headaches, depressed feelings, and many other serious bodily ills.

MAKING READY FOR THE BOLL WEEVIL

Andrew M. Sculo, President Georgia State College Of Agriculture

The fight against the boll weevil itself, of course, belongs essentially to the State Board of Entomology and the State Department of Agriculture, where the quarantine and general regulatory power resides for the control of insect pests, but the State College of Agriculture, through its extension and demonstration agents, is ready to do its part in meeting the problems arising.

At a meeting held at Macon for the purpose of organizing a campaign for better farming, the College enlisted its forces and is in accord with the spontaneous passing, which are as follows:

"Resolved: That we approve the campaign on boll weevil inaugurated by the State Board of Entomology, and urge the active co-operation of the State Department of Agriculture, the United States Department of Agriculture, the State College of Agriculture, the State Agricultural Society, the Farmers' Union and other farmers' and business organizations with in the state.

"Resolved: That this committee recommend that the State Chamber of Commerce furnish the expenses of a business man from boll weevil territory to organize and instruct the business men of their duties in fighting the boll weevil. This man to be selected by the directors of the campaign.

"Resolved: That under the leadership of the Extension Forces in co-operation with all other state agencies engaged in farm improvement work, better farming campaign be inaugurated in the counties immediately in advance of the boll weevil, gradually extending this to all sections of the State. This campaign to begin as soon as practicable, after the close of the boll weevil campaign, in which better farming, adequate markets and better credit be urged.

"That the agricultural forces of the state take charge of the better farming campaign, and in connection therewith the Chamber of Commerce and bankers and business men's organizations take hold of the campaign for markets, credit and organizing the business interests in this work."

The effectiveness of the Smith-Lever and demonstration funds become very apparent in emergencies like this. The demonstration agent who is on the ground is prepared to put into effect the best advice that the campaigns, or expert scientists in general have to offer, in fact they are a very present help in the time of trouble.

TREATING SEED OATS FOR SMUT

R. A. Childs, Georgia State College Of Agriculture

Through the co-operation of the county farm demonstration agents, an estimate has been compiled showing an average loss of ten per cent of the oat crop of Georgia due to loose smut.

The forecast of the government monthly crop report for Georgia on June 1st was 16,416,000 bushels of oats. Figuring on this basis the loss to the state was 1,641,600 bushels from smut.

This disease is caused principally by smut spores which are upon the seeds when they are planted. Any treatment which kills the spores upon the seed without materially injuring the seed itself results in a clean crop. The most economical and satisfactory treatment is the formalin treatment.

Formalin can be purchased from any druggist at a cost of from 40 to 50 cents per pint. One pint is sufficient to treat from 75 to 100 bushels of grain. This formalin should be used at the rate of one ounce to three gallons of water or one pint to 40-50 gallons of water. Stronger mixtures than this may injure germination.

Spread the grain in a thin layer on the barn floor and sprinkle with the diluted formalin. A common watering pot can be used for this purpose. Be sure that all parts of the grain are evenly and thoroughly sprinkled, then shovel the grain over several times until the seed are all dampened with the solution. Heap into a pile and cover with a canvas sheet or sacks to keep the fumes of the formalin within. The pile should stand for six to ten hours in this way, when it should be spread out to dry, stirring frequently until dry. Put into bags that have been disinfected with the formalin solution. The drill should also be disinfected before sowing.

FOR EARLY SPRING CABBAGE

T. H. McHatten, Prof. Hort., Georgia State College Of Agriculture

For early spring cabbage the seed should be sown not later than October 1. When the plants are three to four weeks old transplant them. Do this again the following month if possible. Set into the field from December on for early spring heads.

In south Georgia it is customary to plant several seeds in the hill in the open field in early October and thin when the plants have started growth. Generally speaking it is better, however, to transplant from seed beds.

Data From The College Farm

By Dr. A. M. Davis.

During the past eight years the College Farm at Athens has been operated primarily as a live stock farm, the idea being to secure data along this line which would be of special value to our farmers. For many years previously the land had been cultivated in cotton. Crop rotations had not been followed and the crop-raising capacity of the land on that account was limited. The purpose of re-forming the soil and building up the farm has been to secure a more and more permanent and profitable use of the land through the use of yard manure, the establishment of crop rotations, and deep and thorough tillage.

Only a limited amount of money has ever been available to expend in the purchase of live stock; hence, the development of the herds and flocks to their present proportions has been brought about chiefly through the natural increase, and the exercise of skill and care in the breeding, handling and feeding of the different classes of animals maintained on the farm.

Increase in Value $12,615.00

In 1907 there were 43 heads of live stock, consisting of mules and grade dairy cows containing a considerable dash of Jersey blood and a few hogs, valued at $1,917.68. One year later there were 71 animals on the farm valued at $5,921.56. In 1913-1914 there were 213 animals valued at $10,042.90 and in 1914-1915 there were 163 animals valued at $14,632.00. During the College year just closed 90 animals were sold off the farm worth $2,791.57. The total increase in the value of the herds in eight years is $12,615.00, and the percentage of increase in value, 653.

The dairy herd has also made a remarkable record. In 1907, 13 cows were giving milk. The gross return per cow at that time was $86.49, the total receipts from the dairy herd for the College year 1907-1908 being $1,124.44. The dairy herd now numbers 34 cows and the average gross return per cow for the year was $193.01. The gross income from the herd was $6,562.69. The total increase in receipts for eight years was therefore $5,438.25, while the increase return per cow amounted to $106.52.

The sales of live stock have also shown a steady increase. For the College year 1907-1908, $72.29 worth of live stock was sold; in 1914-1915, $2,791.57. This represented the value of 96 animals and consisted of 25 dairy animals, of which ten were pure-bred, 35 beef animals and 36 hogs. Some cotton has, of course, been grown on the farm from year to year. In 1907-1908 the sale of cotton seed amounted to $469.62; in 1910-1911 to $1,779.55; in 1913-1914 to $1,623.25. In 1914-1915 the sales were greatly reduced by reason of the cut in acreage, and also the relatively low price which cotton brought.

Increase in Receipts $8,374.23

The total receipts of the farm for the year 1907-1908 were $1,799.57; for 1913-1914, $10,235.40, and in 1914-1915, $10,175.60. There was an increase for this year in the returns from the dairy herd and from the sales of live stock. As a matter of fact, the farm receipts should have totaled $11,000.00, and would have done so but for the lower price which cotton brought. There has been an increase in the past eight years in farm receipts of $8,374.23, equivalent to a percentage increase of 469.8. The per cent of total receipts in eight years ran from 62.5 to 61.6 for the dairy; from 4 to 26.4 per cent for the live stock, and from 25.5 down to 6.7 per cent for the cotton. In other words, the farm has made a steady growth and development in income and resources from year to year, while the production of cotton has been minimized. In the meantime, much land has been reclaimed and its fertility greatly increased. Alfalfa has been established on some nine acres, and is yielding abundantly. The soils have been improved through crop rotation in which the cow-peas and winter growing legumes have predominated. The return of the yard manure to the land has enriched and enriched it. The roughage needed to maintain all the herds and flocks has been produced without trouble. It has, of course, been necessary to buy large quantities of cotton seed meal from year to year to supplement the roughage grown on the farm. In fact, without its use the records obtained could not have been made, and since it furnished protein in a cheaper form than it could have been obtained elsewhere and constitutes the basis of the concentrates fed to the dairy herd, its value in the maintenance of the farm and in the soil-building operations has been a very essential matter.

Feed Cotton Seed Meal

It has been possible to feed the cotton seed meal with advantage on grass, and with most wholesome results in the stall during the winter when combined, not only with dry forms of roughage, but especially alfalfa. The maintenance of such a large number of live stock has made practical through the use of silage and cotton seed meal, insuring a cheap ration during the winter months, and the best possible substitute for grass.

There are now three large silos on the farm, and the policy of the management is to erect another as soon as practicable, since the silo enables the storage and preservation of the choicest quality of roughage in the cheapest form.

These facts demonstrate that live stock farming is not only practicable but profitable in the South, and that if every farm had a reasonable number of live stock on it of breeds well adapted to the section that cotton could then indeed be made a strictly money crop and not the dominating factor in our agriculture as at the present time.

The course of real pleasure is to take the spirit of improvement that has taken hold of the people of old Union County in the way of establishing good roads, schools, churches and of raising and building up the morale of the county in a general way.

It takes all this to develop the real good and merits that there is in a country that has lain dormant for a while.

I presume the time was not ripe for this spirit of improvement to come in its proper way until now, but it appears to be putting in its work very nicely at this time.
Good roads are the life of a country and without them no country can develop her real worth as a country until they are established.

I have seen good graded roads and where it looked almost impossible to get them, and it can be done. In Union Co., and I am confident that it is only a question of time when it will be done, to the honor and pride of the people who will be the beneficiaries of the same.

You all have the schools, and now the most needed improvement is good roads.

These roads will open up one of the best countries known in many respects. Take for instance, the timber industry, aside from many other industries that would be located and established in your immediate section. It seems to take (sometimes) a long time to see the real worth and merit there is in a country, but it will come sooner or later.

I also note what "ye Editor" has said in regard to advertising for whiskey and beer companies.

I in all you say on that subject and I hope that you will never cease to use your influence against that which is dangerous to all who tamper with the deadly stuff.

It takes some of us a long time to see the evils of our way, but all will finally see to their own detriment.

I notice another evil that is getting in its work, to the injury and ruin of many young men and that is the cigarette, when used excessively they are as bad as whiskey. I see from observation when any one becomes a cigarette fiend that he is incapable for any position. I knew a young man in Colorado who applied to the chief telegraph operator for a position under him, the chief operator says, "yes, I will give you a job" no, he says, I have got no job for you. He seen his fingers were stained from the use of cigarettes and hence, he lost his opportunity for a position all on account of his use of cigarettes.

DAHLONEGA NEWS

By E. H. RICH

Intended for last week

Mrs. Arnold, after spending most of the summer here, returned to her home in Philadelphia last week.

The attendance at the College is said to be the largest in several years.

The N. G. A. C. baseball and football teams are putting in good time practicing and will soon be ready to "wipe some more teams off the face of the earth", as usual.
Dahlonega just can't be defeated.

Yes, Dahlonega has a Basket ball team and they are going to do some playing this year too. Last year the old N. G. A. C. took the State championship banner from Lucy Caleb Institute at Athens, and so far no other college in the state has retaken it. And we might say in this connection that an old Union county girl, Miss Maud Hendrix, was "the star of the game." The skillful manner in which she played caused the Athen papers to refer to her as "the star of the game".

Outside the literary societies, the College has a regular debating team composed of young men who have heretofore won honors from their respective societies. This team is under the management of our expression teacher, Miss Georgina Peet, and twice each week she in turns in the science of argumentation and debate. A challenge has been sent to a college in South Carolina for an intercollegiate debate.

Union county has only four students in college here so far. They are messrs Ferd Berry, F. M. Rich, B. H. Rich and Miss Eula Berry.
Last year Mr. Reid Akins and Miss Maud and Mattie Hendrix were in school here but they have failed to "show up" this year.

There has been twenty-four new students joined the band. Prof. Anglesberg from Berlin, Germany is the teacher. Last year the band inade a tour of the State and everywhere they went they received great applause.

Grateful Mothers Tell Experiences

Mrs. T. Neureuer, Eau Claire, Wis., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cured my boy of a very severe attack of croup after other remedies had failed. Our milkman cured his children of whooping cough. I recommend it to every one, as we know from our own experience that it is a wonderful remedy for coughs, colds, croup, and whooping cough." Mrs. D. Gilkeson, Youngstown, O., writes: "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. I tried lots of cough remedies, but she didn't get any better. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to me. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat, and after using one bottle the cough left her."
"This sterling old remedy has been in use for years and is just as efficacious for adults as for children. It gives relief for irritated and tickling throat, tight and sore chest, grippe and bronchial coughs."

News comes from southern Kansas that a boy climbed a corn stalk to see how the sky and clouds looked, and that now the stalk is growing faster than the boy can climb down. The boy is clear out of sight. Three men have taken the contract for cutting down the stalk with axes to save the boy a horrible death by starving, but the stalk grows so rapidly that they can't hit twice in the same place. The boy is living on green corn alone and has already thrown down over four bushels of cobs. Even if the corn holds out there is still danger that the boy will reach a height where he will be frozen to death. There is talk of attempting his rescue with a

In Memory of David A. Byers

On the virgin soil of Mount Zion Cemetery calmly sleeps to-day in his last long sleep one of God's Nationmen in the person of our honorable brother, D. A. Byers, who was born May 20 1835, married to Miss Martha J. Nichols in the year 1859, and died July 22 1915. His body was laid to rest by Haverhill friends on the 23 of said month. Funeral services were conducted by Revs.
T. C. Hughes and Conley. Brother Byers was in the fullest sense an honest man, he was a true gentleman. For a long time he walked in the light of day and in the sight of man steadily and patiently walked the straight and narrow path of honor and integrity until the calm of the golden morning of the 22 of July, one clear call was heard and his spirit crossed the bar and now he sees his Pilot face to face forever more. Lives lived as Bro.
Byers lived constitute the worlds best asset and are the perennial springs of a Nations honor and glory. He was industrious, a good farmer and financier, but his love for money never grew into avarice nor assumed the form of coarse and selfish greed or the sordid spirit of the miser, he was enriched and kept sweet by a higher love; he loved his family, his home, his friends, his country, his fellow-man and better far he loved his God. It was this higher and broader love that kept him steady in the straight path of integrity while others have fallen.
It was his noble life that kept alendy his boat while breasting the waves of life's sea, and which finally gave him anchorage in the peaceful haven on the other shore, where all good and just men are gathering.

He joined the Baptist Church in 1871, he lived his profession, he was a Deacon of his church, discharging all duties with fidelity, was true to his pastor and was ever ready to give to the church of Christ he loved so well.

He was made a Mason in 1889 and was a chartered member of Dooly Lodge No. 367, F. & A. M., filling all stations in the Lodge in honor of himself and the cause, he was a great lover and friend to Masonry, he was the leading influence in the constituting of said lodge so in the passing away of our brother we have lost one of our most efficient members, a pillow indeed was he.

Mount Zion Church has lost one of her greatest builders and Dooly District one of her best neighbors and citizens.

Whereas the alwise Father seen fit to take our brother from us, we bow to Him who doeth all things well, and resolve:

1st. That we emulate his example in all good works and push around to the goal he has reached.

2nd. That the lonely wife who had gone hand in hand with him through sunshine and shadows of many years we extend our heartfelt sympathy, praying that the everlasting arms will uphold her in this dark and trying hour.

3rd. To the children we would say Heaven is brought nearer since father is the e, live the christian life he did and one day you will meet him up there.
