LEE COUNTY PLAN MAY BE ADOPTED

Meeting Of Delegates From South-South-eastern States Called To Consider Plan

WILL CURTAIL COTTON CROP

According To Plan Farmers Agree To Restrict 1915 Crop To Ten Acres To A Plow

Atlanta.—The "Lee county plan" for curtailing next year's cotton crop, which was approved at the meeting of the Georgia chamber of commerce in Macon, was unanimously adopted by the cotton-producing committee of that body, and a meeting of delegates from seven southeastern states has been called in Atlanta, October 5, to consider the adoption of the Lee county plan by all the farmers of the cotton-growing states. It is expected that this plan will curtail Georgia's crop by 2,600 acres.

The state chamber and many cotton experts and growers consider this plan the most practicable and enforceable plan that has yet been formulated for the curtailment of cotton production. It is meeting with hearty approval among farmers of a number of south Georgia counties, where county organizations are already being perfected. Attorneys have assured the chamber that the plan is in conformity with law, and when signed can be enforced as a contract.

Explains Lee County Plan

The Lee county plan has been briefly outlined by the state chamber of commerce as follows:

"The Lee county plan provides under a charter duly granted, whenever 75 per cent of the plows of the cotton farms, signing through the land owners, have signed up an agreement not to plant in cotton in 1915 more than 10 acres to the plow—then the contract becomes lawfully binding upon all parties to the contract.

"Each county has its own management through a duly constituted board, and the one bonded union to which all agree is the limited acreage to be planted. The contract is binding for 1915, and to be renewed from year to year, as may be deemed best by the majority.

"It takes the name of the Lee county plan because it was first started in Lee county and has spread rapidly through middle Georgia. A vigorous and rapid campaign will be begun immediately to organize counties as rapidly as men can be put in the field and mass meetings called."

Convention of Disciples of Christ

Atlanta.—The international convention of the Disciples of Christ, which will be held in Atlanta for one week beginning October 7, will bring to this city hundreds of the most prominent and representative people of the United States, as well as a large number from the principal countries of Asia, Europe and Africa, including missionaries and native workers.

It is expected that on this occasion Atlanta will be host to between five and ten thousand visitors and elaborate preparations are being made by the many workers here for their entertainment. The Disciples of Christ is the organization name of the Christian churches which have a large following the world over.

From Russia alone it was expected to have a delegation of five hundred people. But because of conditions in Europe at present, it is probable this number will be reduced, as no doubt some of them have already been drafted in the army. England is planning to send a party of fifty or more, while India, China and Africa will be well represented.

Hold Cotton But Paid Tenants

Atlanta.—Mrs. Ed Napier, who owns a big farm about eleven miles from Milledgeville, is doing her share toward aiding the cotton movement. She is holding three hundred bales of cotton from the market in effort to help conditions.

Mrs. Napier has in the neighborhood of thirty-five families as tenants on her farm. Each of these tenants she has paid off in the customary manner, just as though she had sold each and every bale of the cotton her farm produces each year. No one will suffer from her move to hold her crop until times get better.

She has sent a bale of bolls to the Wincoff hotel, and they are displayed in unique style along the gallery of the mezzanine floor, where they are in full view of the office and lobby.

Naval Store Begin To Move

Brunswick.—A steamship is due to arrive in Brunswick this week to take on a load of naval stores for Brazil, which will be the first cargo to be shipped from this, or probably any other South Atlantic port to that country in ten or twelve years and which probably means the beginning of new business which this section is to enjoy.

DOINGS AROUND STATE CAPITAL

Bond Issue For Atlanta

Atlanta.—That a bond issue of about five million dollars is necessary in order that Atlanta's needed improvements in schools, Grady hospital, plaza and other projects may be carried out, is the belief which prompted Councilman C. W. Smith to offer a bond issue resolution before the finance committee.

Baptist Association to Meet

Atlanta.—Fifty-one churches and a number of missions will send representatives to the sixth annual session of the Atlanta Baptist association, which meets at the Gordon street church October 13-15. The membership of the churches of the association totals 16,144.

An elaborate program has been mapped out by the association, the feature of which will be the associational sermon to be preached by Dr. William H. Makor of the Capitol Avenue Baptist church.

Seeking South American Trade

Atlanta.—The Atlanta chamber of commerce has called a conference of the manufacturers of the South to meet in Atlanta, October 13 and 14, for the purpose of discussing ways and means of extending the trade of the South to South and Central America. This conference will be known as the "Foreign Trade Conference."

The personnel of this conference will include the leading manufacturers of all lines in the Southern states, prominent railroad officials, representatives from the department of commerce at Washington and commercial experts who have spent many years in the countries to the South of the United States.

One of the projects to be considered will be that of sending a commission to South and Central America for the purpose of establishing trade and credit relations in the leading centers. Such a trip would include stops at Rio, Buenos Aires, Valparaiso, Santiago and the Panama Canal.

Slaton Talks To Governors

Washington, D. C.—Reduction of the cotton crop next season by at least 50 per cent of last season's acreage was declared to be the great, outstanding, overwhelming need in the present crisis confronting the cotton industry.

This was practically the unanimous agreement of members of congress and governors of the cotton-producing states, who met here in an earnest effort to devise some means by state or national action to avert the losses which confront the South.

Governor John M. Slaton addressed the gathering at length. He recalled the promises that had been made as to what congress would do and the relief that would be granted by the national government. He called for a fulfillment of these promises. Governor Slaton spoke with great earnestness and was applauded by the governors. He said it would require two years for Georgia to change her Constitution so as to enact the suggested legislation.

Atlanta Man Is Honored

Atlanta.—Hugh M. Willet, the newly elected president of the National Association of Insurance Underwriters, was honor guest at a banquet given at the Piedmont Driving Club by the Georgia Association of Life Insurers, complimentary to Mr. Willet's election to the high office in the national organization.

Atlanta's Annual Corn Show

Atlanta.—The corn show committee of the Atlanta chamber of commerce, acting in conjunction with the carnival committee of the Atlanta Ad Men's club, met in the chamber of commerce and decided to hold the corn show this year on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, December 1, 2, 3 and 4.

By the courtesy of Governor Slaton it is expected to hold the corn show at the capitol, but the hog and hominy ball, to be given in connection with the corn show will take place at the auditorium probably on Thursday, December 8.

The annual corn show parade will be held as usual, and it is expected to be larger and more interesting than ever.

Judge Bartlett Is Exonerated

Atlanta.—After a session which lasted practically all day, the Democratic state executive committee exonerated Judge A. L. Bartlett of the Tallapoosa circuit of the charges brought against him by his opponent, J. M. McBride, and unanimously declared him the nominee of the party.

Following the Democratic primary charges were preferred against Judge Bartlett that he used money and whisky to secure his election. These charges were brought by J. M. McBride of Tallapoosa, whose vote was only eleven less than that of Judge Bartlett. The charges came up before the credentials committee of the state convention at Macon, which, in turn, referred the matter to the convention to act upon. The convention, in turn, referred the charges to the state executive committee.

POLISH DECIDEDLY NOT ALL

Writer Sees Danger in the Easy-Going Methods That Mark the Present Generation of Americans.

"We are a tolerant, easy-going people nowadays. We take nearly everything calmly, unworried and untroubled. But, I wonder, is it altogether good? Mark you this closely, that although the wise philosopher may act and think in a detached smoothness and equanimity, so the most shallow and thoughtless person may present a similar exterior, which is, as you may have guessed, the stolidity of ignorance.

Taking us all in all we are neither a sage and learned nor an asinine community, though doubtless there are both among us. In the bulk we are a more or less common-sense and practical race bequeathed, in our traditions, a touch of fineness and even of nobility.

Some of us of today are in danger of losing a great deal of what should be our most precious prize. We are all inclined to skim over the surface of things so lightly, so airily, that we never scratch below the polish, and have come first to imagine and then firmly to believe that the polish is all, the heart and the total of all. We shirk the seriousness of things, find a distaste in solid thought, and mold our faces to laughter at the mention of morality.—Exchange.

WILL INVESTIGATE BRAINS.

A new psychopathic laboratory, the first of its kind in the United States, will be established soon as an auxiliary to the municipal court of Chicago. Husbands who fail in their obligations to support their wives will be taken to the laboratory on the theory that they may have diseased brains and that they may require mental treatment as a substitute for punishment. Those arrested on other charges may receive the same treatment.

"The backward boy may be backward because of defective sight or hearing," said Chief Justice Olson. "Persons who come into the police court, the boys' court, the morals court and the court of domestic relations will be subject to an examination in the laboratory if it appears probable they need it."

Liberty.
Liberty is the right to do what the law allows; and if a citizen could do what they forbid it would be no longer liberty, because others would have the same power.—Montesquieu.

LITTLE NEWS ITEMS THROUGHOUT STATE

America.—Thirteen thousand bales of wagon cotton of the present crop have been received at American warehouses to date. These figures compare with 12,000 bales at close of September last season. In addition to the 12,000 bales received at warehouses, fully 3,000 bales are stacked under gins houses on plantations, where they will be held by farmers until conditions improve. Of the 12,000 bales marketed in America, already probably less than 4,000 have been sold, the farmers holding steadily for eight cents or better. Two additional brick warehouses are being constructed to hold the reserve crop.

Thomas.—At a mass meeting of McIntosh county farmers held here resolutions were passed endorsing the Henry bill, and telegrams sent to President Wilson, Senator Hoke Smith and Hon. T. W. Hardwick urging its passage and requesting that they use their influence. Telegrams were sent also to Hon. D. K. McKellar, M. C., and Hon. Charles Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union, endorsing the farmers' measure and pledging support to the latter in his fight for the South.

LaGrange.—Some of the LaGrange business men have gone the state one-half cent better by paying 10 1/2 cents for cotton. Even during the low wave this price has stood, many bales being sold at this price when the market offering was less than 8 cents. The other towns throughout the county were a so early in joining the 10-cent movement. At both Hogansville and West Point, as well as at LaGrange, nearly every bale of cotton sold has brought 10 cents or better.

Monticello.—At a meeting of citizens of Monticello in the court house, an organization was perfected to be known as the Monticello buy-a-bale committee, whose purpose is to co-operate with northern and western grain dealers and all firms wishing to buy cotton. The meeting was called to order by Mayor Eli Malone, who was unanimously elected chairman of the meeting. Editor P. L. Penn of the Monticello News was chosen secretary.

Athens.—D. J. Cook, legal constable for the town district of the county, who attempted a record by levying upon an empty chicken coop and dragging it to the court house to be sold on a "chicken sale day," has overplayed that record by levying on and hauling in covered roads twenty-nine colts to be sold. They are assorted sizes and belonged to the stock of a local undertaker, whose hearse was sold by the court a short time ago.

America.—The American Young Men's Christian Association, after a lapse of two years, has been reconstituted and the handsome building was reopened with a public reception. Two hundred names have been added to the membership list and the association resumes usefulness under auspicious circumstances and with all indebtedness cancelled. Recently $20,000 was subscribed by citizens for the American association. Glen Colby, the well-known baseball player and experienced Y. M. C. A. director, will be superintendent here.

Fitzgerald.—The county board of education decided some time ago not to open the rural schools until the first of January, 1915, on account of the lack of money to pay the teachers, but since then a plan has been developed by which money will be furnished to run the schools. As other counties are in the same position, this plan might help them also. A number of the public-spirited moneyed men of Fitzgerald agreed to buy fifty dollars' worth of school warrants each, and the First National bank and the Exchange National bank agreed to supply the balance needed until taxes came in, the tax collector, Fred Graham, agreeing to accept the warrants in payments for taxes this fall. This arrangement will enable the schools to open on the second Monday in October, by which time most of the cotton will be picked and the children will be ready to attend school.

Athens.—The Athens presbytery, embracing all the Presbyterian churches between Athens and the Carolinas, adjourned at Macon, Georgia, to meet again in Danville, Va., April next. Rev. J. Spencer Smith of Macon succeeded Rev. S. Wilds DuBose of Jefferson as moderator with Rev. S. J. Cartledge of Athens acting clerk. Dr. R. Freeman, as commissioner, from the eldership, and Rev. S. W. DuBose, from the ministry, were named to the general assembly to be held at Newport News, Va., next spring. Rev. Dr. R. L. Hill of Athens was named again as trustee for Davidson College, N. C., and Col. R. L. J. Smith, ruling elder of Commerce, was named as an additional trustee from the same presbytery in the same institution. Rev. J. D. McPhail of Athens was dismissed to go to the Augusta presbytery to become Sunday pastor of the Warrenboro church. Rev. J. D. McCord of Commerce was dismissed to go to the Harmony presbytery to be pastor at Sardis, S. C.

THE WAR.

The biggest war the world has ever known is now being fought. Civilized men by the millions are in the battle lines. They are equipped with the most deadly weapons that science can devise. One modern rapid-fire gun could have annihilated a regiment at Gettysburg. Moreover, men are fighting in new elements. Under water as fiercely as on the surface; in the air as destructively as on the ground. At a time when we were placing the highest value on human life, suddenly, overnight, it is cheapened as never before. No more tremendous military slaughter was ever conceived by the wildest imagination, and it is happening now.

THE NEGATIVE MAN.

One of the most pitiful sights in the world is the man who never has any opinion of his own, the backboneless man, the man who never differs from you, whose only opinion is assent to the one you express.

We instinctively despise the man who never opposes us, who always says "Yes, yes" to every thing we say.

The negative character is always a weakling, the world looks upon him as an imitation of a man not the real article. What the world wants is the positive man, the man who does his own thinking, the man who dares to step out from the crowd and live his own creed, who dares to have and to express his own opinion, this is the man who gains the respect of the community.

The negative man may be a very good, inoffensive sort of person; he may never do any harm in a neighborhood; but on the other hand, he never does much good. He is never sought out in emergency, because no one believes he can accomplish anything; he is virtually a nobody.

A person, who is naturally weak or timid should bend all his energies to acquiring self-confidence, firmness, decision, just as one should study to acquire a knowledge of mathematics or science. He should never for a moment give way to the thought that he would not be equal to any emergency. He should not refer to or lean upon others, but should do his work or his thinking independently.—Ex.

WHAT EDITORS KNOW.

A good many editors are said not to know much says an exchange. The trouble is they know a lot of stuff that they dare not tell. They know who drinks and they know the ladies who deviate from the straight and narrow path of rectitude, and the boys who smoke in alleys and dark places, and the girls who are not auto riding till the roosters crow for daylight. They know the fellows that are good to pay and they know the fellow who can't get trusted for a tobacco sack full of salt. They could guess at once why some fellows are as they are and they can guess closely what they do to make themselves so. They know enough to make one of the red-hottest, rip-snorting, high-gear, triple-action, chain-lightning editions you ever read, but they also know it is best for the community and themselves to let the law take care of humanity's development and publish only such news as will do to read in the house. Editors generally pursue this policy and thereby live longer and get more enjoyment out of life.—Publishers Auxiliary.

MORE POLITICS.

There seems to be a probability of the Progressive party in Georgia putting out a candidate against Shoofly Hardwick in the November election for United States Senator. Hon. Rufe Hutchens will doubtless be endorsed as their candidate. We are sorry to hear this, but how can you expect anything else after such action at the Macon Convention. Hardwick is not the nominee of the Democratic party of Georgia, and no Democrat feels obligated to support him as such. Every Democrat in Georgia knows that he is not the choice of the people. The voters do not feel like they are compelled to support a candidate appointed by a few sore-headed politicians. The Democratic party had become almost solid, but now it is badly split and we can't tell what may happen.

There is also talk of Hon. Thos. M. Bell having an opposition in the Ninth for Congress. This district went Republican for Taft.
